

North Middlesex Hospital

London, N18

This Accident & Emergency department was constructed on a busy hospital site in North London. The project was awarded as a Design and Build contract with the architect and engineer being novated to complete the design process.

This was the second major construction project that Rooff Limited has carried out for this client in recent years and is a continuation of a long term working relationship with Kit Allsop Architects.

The excellent relationships between all members of the construction team enabled this highly complex and heavily serviced building to be completed on time and within budget.

Rooff Limited designed the specialist services using the expertise of a combined Mechanical and Electrical Services contractor, and the systems were successfully commissioned on time without any significant difficulties.

Client: North Middlesex Hospital NHS Trust
